JACQUE MALOUF

Food Stylist and Recipe Developer

Based in London for 13 years, Jacque Malouf's food styling and writing experience places her amongst the finest within the Australian market.

A trained chef with a serious passion for food, Jacque's career was spectacularly launched when she won a cooking competition with a prize of a trip to Paris. That trip was enough to seduce her to stay in Europe, and after various positions in restaurants around Europe, she settled in London to become a food writer and stylist.

Jacque has collaborated with an impressive array of the major food, supermarket and publishing brands, as well as various creative advertising and fashion clients. This has culminated in a portfolio that is both unique and very inspiring! Her level of creativity shines through the work, but the attention to the detail that is demanded by the mainstream clients is also apparent.

Having worked with some of Europe's best photographers and directors, Jacque is proficient in styling for Advertising Stills Photography as well as Television Commercials, Books and Web. She thrives on the challenges and opportunities that come from crossing mediums, and can also write the copy if required!

Jacque recently returned to her native Australia with her family in tow, and is now happily sharing her wonderful depth of knowledge with her new Australian clients and teams.

Jacque was recognized in the UK for her skill by being asked to judge the UK Writers Guild Awards in 2008.
